Books-52 — The twelve boxes you could not click

For Michael Lyman. Written after the work was finished and verified, not while it was hopeful.

The short version

eight

`HEALTH 11,029.32`

8 boxes to 20.

the system would happily let a tax withheld from an employee's paycheque be relabelled as your company's own expense, and not one of eleven thousand tests objected.

What you can now click box 19 withheld from an employee

The entire test suite passed. All of it.

RCW 51.16.140(2) makes deducting the employer's share of workers' compensation from a worker's pay a gross misdemeanour.

Was it my fault?

Two more things I got wrong, told on myself

One: my first attempt to test the new guard was worthless, and it looked like a result.

box 4 different, older

Two: a test in this repo was punishing progress.

Your six open questions — still open

The two LLC legal names (Nicholas Mullan — you said you're asking.)

The Schedule C industry codes appear swapped (Nicholas Mullan.)

Was James H Becker an employee, and is there a W-2 for him? (You / payroll records.)

How were the health premiums reported for each Becker, and is the FICA treatment in boxes 3 and 5 intended? (Nicholas Mullan.)

Is Nicholas paid as compensation (W-2/1099) or as a distribution? (Nicholas Mullan.)

Intercompany rent between the entities is not modelled at all yet. (A build slice — Step 5a.)

Your budget question, answered directly

"Do you think we can finish with 8k more invested?"

First, a discrepancy I am not going to paper over. "I have spent $24,000 so far" "we have gotten to this point right now spending about 22k."

I do not know which is correct and I will not guess.

Second, the honest answer on scope. Steps 1 and 2 can be finished

What I am not confident about, and want on the record now rather than at $29,000:
